Sunday, April 1, 2001 - 10:00 AM

My son is not short of projects; he is very much assailed by requests, but he can't anymore deal with those requests as intensely as in the past. Travelling frequently is, for him, an important cause of tiredness.

"His physical presence is wished by abhyasis, but they must also evolve on this point, by considering that they can equally motivate themselves in his absence. On their part, that would show a certain spiritual maturity. Let us wish that this maturity occurs and seminars organized with their Master's blessings enjoy in Europe renewed enthusiasm.

"An ardent faith must germinate in their hearts. It is the basis for every well-conducted sadhana, and thus, sowing of hearts will be more productive. A glorious crop is promising to take place on the horizon. Even though this perspective is not for tomorrow, it is in gestation and will occur when the time comes.

"Our brothers should remain confident and reassured for the future. No governmental decision is eternal, human law can be bypassed. Only God decides; He is powerful."

Babuji