Monday, June 9, 2003 - 10:00 AM

Our mission is vast. It is expanding in the world, as planned. My son is leading it as a great strategist, beyond his power at the spiritual level. He is the right man for the job. Having all these necessary qualities together is not easy. He is stronger in the field than we could have been. This fact keeps on delighting us.

"Some choices are made through the heart under high inspiration, which is true in the present case. We are following the development of Sahaj Marg and its likely impact in the world with the greatest interest. It has progressed well. Although today's man is not really ready to receive it, it manages to touch the hearts and its action will keep on growing in the future. All must be set up at all levels, according to this programmed expansion. Minds also must be prepared for this prospect and act accordingly concerning projects to be implemented in various countries.

"Facilities must be created in compliance with this foreseen evolution and be planned for, beyond current times. Today's abhyasi prepares the future. Each one plays his role and it is comforting to see that there are so many brothers committed to serving the Mission.

"We wanted to underline these aspects, although they are already long-standing priorities for our son. It is our way of encouraging him, if he had to be encouraged, and to repeat through this means what he already knows: i.e., how much we love him and appreciate his works."

Babuji