Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, June 5, 2000 – 10:00 a.m.

A new stage of your life is beginning. Prepare yourself for some changes. You're going to rediscover the energy to undertake them. Your human qualities are intact. You still have work to do, whatever you may think. We haven't brought you to this high level of perception for this gift to remain unused.

Life still has surprises in store for you. Whether my son comes to you or not, the communication between you is established, that's the main thing. Mountains don't meet, but they exist and have their respective importance. Some are more attractive than others, although each plays its part.

Keep progressing and we'll continue our journey together. Don't go beyond your physical capacities, regain strength and everything will be fine. Try to finally be reasonable. These collections of messages testify to a part of your activity in our service.

They exist, of that you cannot have any doubt, as you do habitually. Remain surrendered, adaptable to any change. That's how to act to be truly of service, never forget it.

The Medium: Babuji, how good it is to meet you again. My heart was missing you.

Mine didn't miss you, since you didn't leave it.
